The Sun is a Peach

Sara Cassidy
illustrated by Josée Bisailon

The sun is a peach.

A yolk.

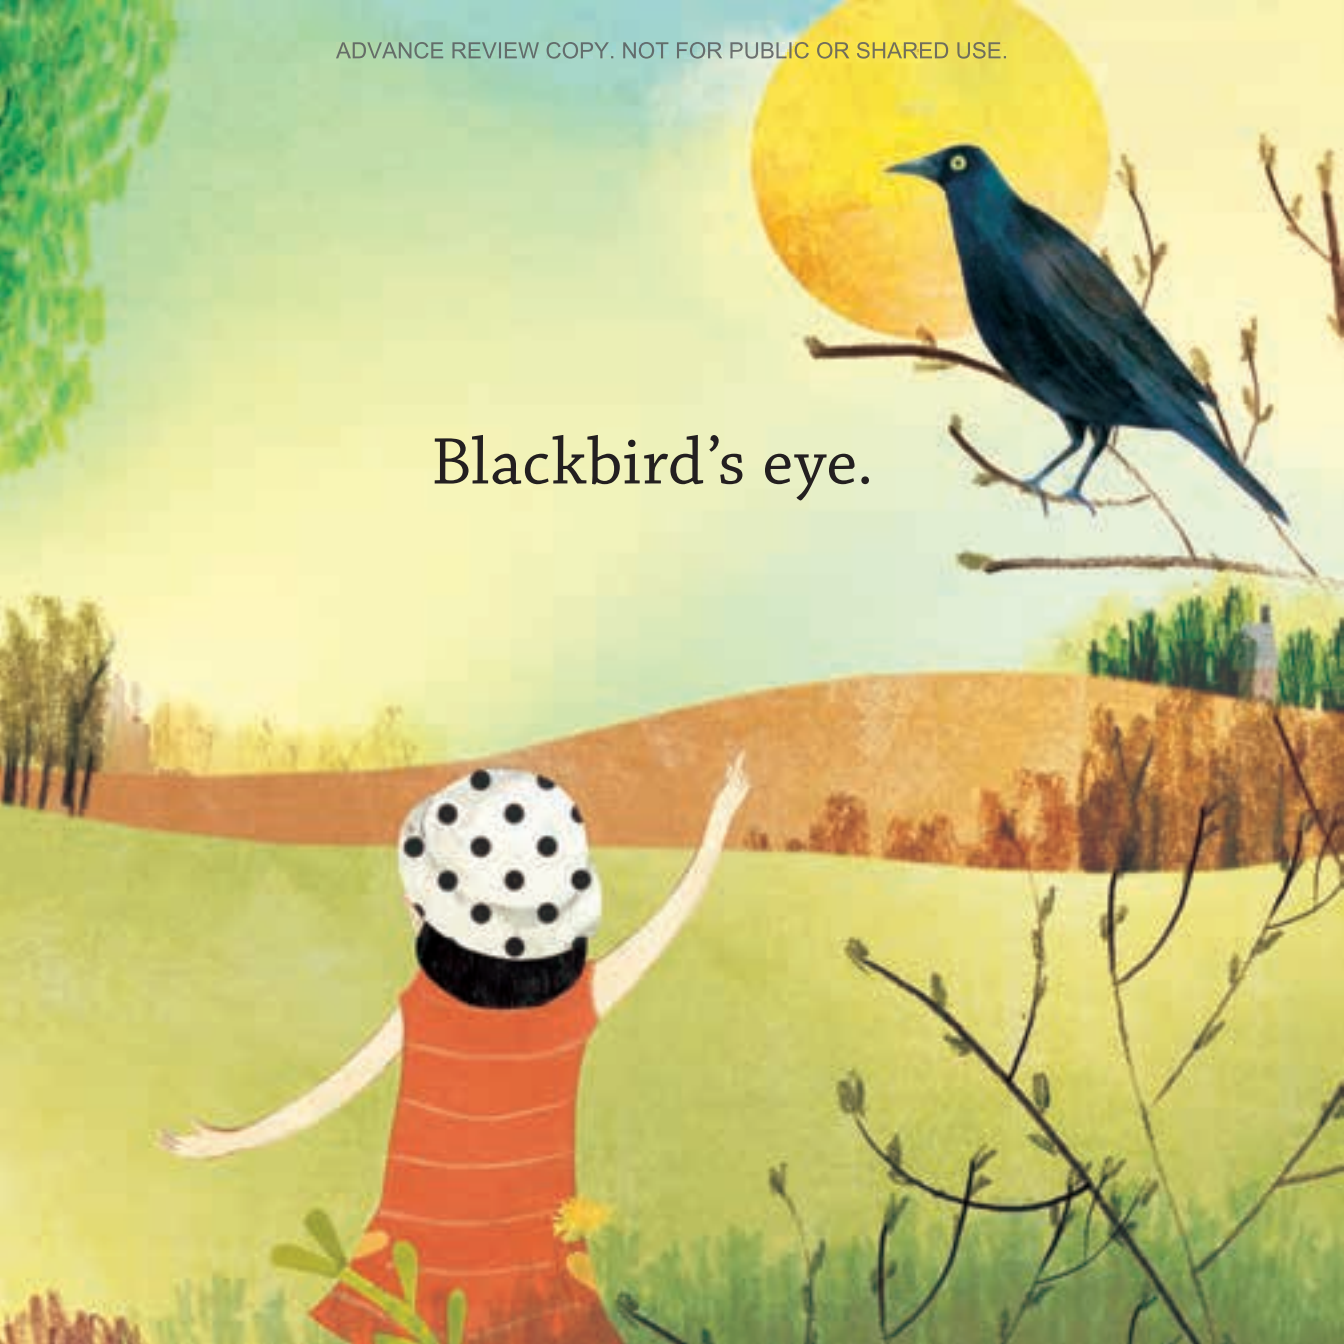

A spool of yellow thread.

Dandelion.

Blackbird's eye.

A coin in your hand.

Shimmering cymbals.
Blaring trumpet.

Bee sting.

Scoop of ice cream.

A painting of a garden scene. In the background, a large, bright yellow sun hangs in a pale sky. To the left, a tree with light-colored bark and green leaves stands. To the right, another tree with green leaves and small red berries is visible. A white picket fence runs across the middle ground. In front of the fence, there are patches of green grass and several red flowers. The foreground is a large, soft, yellowish-green area, possibly representing a lawn or a field of tall grass. The overall style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes.

A sleeping cat.

Cheese pizza.

Time.

A colorful illustration of a father and daughter in bed. The father, with brown hair and a blue and white striped shirt, sits up in bed holding an open book. The daughter, with dark hair and a pink shirt, sits up next to him, pointing at the book. They are both looking at the book with interest. The bed has a large yellow blanket and a red pillow with an owl face. A yellow balloon is tied to the bedpost on the left. A small table with a red lamp and a toy car is visible on the right. The text "An open book." is centered over the yellow blanket.

An open book.

What is the sun
to you?
